

Profile

As an EdTech Advisor, I find myself excited for any possible challenges. My home discipline is that of the Natural Sciences, and while I'm open to different course content, I would be happy to assist any course conveners from that faculty. I would say that my favourite task from the course was the mock-up of a lesson page. My technological fluency will also be well-suited to tasks such as uploading lecture videos to Vula, structuring lesson pages and other web-based activities.
